

Everybody Loves To Hate

Lacy J. Dalton

Everybody loves to hate
Everybody loves to hate
We know we should change but it might be too late
Cause everybody loves to hate

And everybody wants to be right
Nobody wants to be wrong
We've been around here for thousands of years
And we never learned together along

Down that TikTok, Twitter and the Facebag
Conspiracy and hate speech cell
We squander our time bragging online
While the whole world goes to hell

Cause everybody loves to fight
Everybody loves to fight
Let's start a war, really give them what for Cause that never fails to delight

Hobble up at Galactic Central
They're shaking their little green heads
After all that they've seen if they don't intervene
These human things will wind up dead

Cause nobody wants to lose
Everybody wants to win
But can't we agree to just disagree?
Live and let live and amen, boys
Live and let live
Live and let live
Live and let live and amen

Do I hear a hallelujah?
