

Hillbilly Girl With the Blues

Lacy J. Dalton

Friends, I know darn well that I'm heading straight to hell
If I keep living the crazy way I do
But I really have to say I have come a long, long way
For a hillbilly girl with the blues

So if you think my song's too rough please recall the roads been tough
And don't judge me darling until you wore my shoes
I've never tried to hide how I really feel inside
I'm just a hillbilly girl with the blues

Someday some I'll settle down in some quite little town
And I won't look back till I leave these blues behind
I gonna play my old guitar raise a roar and pass the jar
I'm gonna sing myself a little piece of life

Don't you know these city lights can really blind a country girl
People often think she's too green to refuse
Well, there's nothing worse than neon when the morning sun shines through
To a hillbilly girl, to a hillbilly girl, to a hillbilly girl with the blues
With the blues
