

Scarecrow

Lacy J. Dalton

Scarecrow flappin' in a dust bowl wind
Never gonna pass this way again
An' if by chance I'm back this way
Nothin' round here's gonna be the same

'Cuz everything changes, nothing stays the same
Everything changes
And I'm just hoping I'll outlast this crazy wastin' pain

Now everything is different without you
Everything is different without you
Things are twisted, weird and strange
I'm come undone, I'm rearranged
Without you, without you, without you

Dark clouds racin' across the moon
Freight train blowin' by here soon
Listen to what the old folks say
About how fast time slips away

How everything changes, nothing stays the same
Everything changes
While I was playing love for keeps, you were playing games

Now everything is different without you
Everything is different without you
You were shallow, weak and cruel
I was just a crazy fool
About you, about you, about you

Friends all say that there is life beyond you
Once this pain stops eatin' me alive
For years and years I rested my trust on you
And I just can't believe how hard this precious ol' dream dies

Blackbird sittin' in a dead ol' tree
Well I had you and you had me
One of us should take the blame
But I ain't callin' any names

'Cuz everything changes, nothing stays the same
Everything changes
I'm standing at the railway station waitin' for the train

'Cuz everything is different without you
Everything is different without you
I thought your love was deep and strong
How could I have been so wrong
About you, about you, about you

Things are twisted, weird and strange
I'm come undone, I'm rearranged
Without you, without you, without you
Without you, without you

Scarecrow flappin' in a dust bowl wind
Never gonna pass this way again
