

Between Two Trees

Lady Lamb

Kick at a pillow till it makes you tired, tired
Bummed out my whole pack and I gave my fire, all my fire

Emptied my pockets, these empty pockets
Emptied my pockets and I waited for your call
Laid on the pavement, down on the pavement
Laid on the pavement with my ear against the wall
Stood on the mountain, up on the mountain
Stood on the mountain and I called your name

I am no savior, I am no savior
I am no savior, I am only your dog
And I'm all tied up, see how I'm tied up
My wrists are bound I am the boat on your dock
I am the boat on your dock

The more you give me, the more I love you
The more I love you, the less you give
Are you a predator?
Are you a huntress?
Are you just a girl?
Or are you some sort of bird?
Some bird turned lioness?

I will bury you between two trees
I will bury you with me

Let's knock some time off the clock
Kill the night, untie my knots all tangled up
Let's knock some time off the clock
Kill the night, untie my knots all tangled up
Let's knock some time off the clock
Untie my knots all tangled up

Emptied my pockets
Laid on the pavement
Stood on the mountain
And I called your name
Empty your pockets
Lay on the pavement
Stand on the mountain
Hear how I don't call your name
