

Delaware

Lady Zamar

Delaware

I have seen you stare
Is it the [?] all the time we'd spent, hey
The violet street lights
[?] crystal nights
There is left abound
You are stellar and sound

I told you that you would never be more than
What is perceived and what is indeed
I told you that you would never be more than
What is perceived and what is indeed

Told you, you, you, you, you, you, you
Told you, you, you, you, you, you, you
Told you, you, you, you, you, you, you
Told you, you, you, you, you, you, you

You, you, you, you
You, you, you, you
You, you, you, you, you, you
You, you, you, you

How could they expect any less or any more from you
There is blood that sees baby through and through
It's murder, oh, the brutality's so soft
Just love and pray, worshipping chapels' doors

Told you, you, you, you, you, you, you
Told you, you, you, you, you, you, you
Told you, you, you, you, you, you, you
Told you, you, you, you, you, you, you

You, you, you, you
You, you, you, you
You, you, you, you, you, you
You, you, you, you

Delaware, fall away, fade away, don't leave me scared
Delaware, fall away, fade away, don't leave me scared
Delaware, fall away, don't fade away, I am still

Told you, you, you, you, you, you, you
Told you, you, you, you, you, you, you
Told you, you, you, you, you, you, you
Told you, you, you, you, you, you, you

You, you, you, you
You, you, you, you
You, you, you, you, you, you
You, you, you, you