White Gold

Back from the window Everything's subtle Temporary sanctuary

Look through the window Everything's subtle Tailored to fit, but nothing's that simple

Gold, you will always come to me With the power of deception Gold won't ever comfort me The color of deception The color of deception Move closer Subterfuge Illusion's there for all to see

There's no one left to rescue me Glass and stone, it cuts like a knife And gold won't ever comfort me

Gold, you will always come to me With the power of deception Gold won't ever comfort me The color of deception The color of deception
