

Off The Wagon

Lagwagon

No more waiting on them
As you sink inside your room
Your environment changed
It changes your perspective too
There's no gain in failure
As you succeed at being theirs

Take a liberation
Take a cheap ride to the moon
Liberate yourself from them

You haven't changed
You've just grown out of them
And you saw what they can't see
In truth, it took you far away from them

And now it chews your stomach
As you bleed
An artist would
She will stand beside you, no doubt
But you'd think by now you'd figure her out

Take a step to Venus
As the truth stands in the way
She's still here to remind you

They never cared
They've just grown out of it
As they all can plainly see
In truth, you've pushed them far away from you

Away from you
