Decree

Should be clear with the fact That we are not moving away From the road that we beat the path for in '48. That is to say we have our own way, We always say what is right on this side And what is not, And what is not, And what is right On the other side And what is not. It should be clear to everyone That we cannot be no ones Appendage of nobody's politics, That we have our own point of view And that we know the worth of what Is right and what is not right.
