

Just Say No!

Laibach

Time will come for all of you
Time will deal with all of you
There will be no mercy and no remorse
There will be no compromise but brutal force

You can say no
Can say no
Say no
No

You will hang high on the streets
You will be buried without retreat
No escape and that's for sure
No guardian, no public eye outside your door

You are afraid of the boogieman
You are obsessed by the master plan
Mystified and worshipped within your sphere
You are only happy when others live in fear

All that you have left is me
I'm here to bring you down on your knees
Lead you from the forest of your own hate
Take you to the mercy of the desert of the real
