

Starry Night

Laika

It is night and life moves at a new pace
The air is still, the earth sleeps
We move with the grace
Of the moon sweeping through the clouds

It is night and life moves at a new pace
The air is still, the earth sleeps
We move with the grace
Of the moon sweeping through the clouds

One by one the stars break through
One by one the stars break through
One by one the stars break through
One by one the stars break through

One by one the stars break through
One by one the stars break through
One by one the stars
