

Rain Down

Lakeview

I know you're back in town
Clouds roll in and the wind blows down
Hittin' up my phone, telling me you miss this

Head down to my favorite bar
Tell all my buddies that you came so far
Honey hate to break it to you, you're just the same

You're like a hurricane with a hot little body
And a chance of rain, sittin' shotgun in my chevy Drinking champagne like we used to do back when we were kids
You drive me crazy when you're fresh out the shower
Thinking maybe, I'll be better off without you
It's not the same when you're not here
You roll in and make it rain down

I see you changed your hair
Bought a new car and moved out west
Under everything you're playing the game, you're always the same

I don't need you, I don't want you
I just wish you'd never call
