

Crawl Away

Lambchop

Close my eyes, think of the rain
Think of an evening the same
Dream it is autumn outside
An evening to hide

Someone to carry me home
To forests where I do belong
Close my eyes, little bit scared
And no one to care

And then my sun comes down
And you won't hold my hand, it's okay
Cause when my sun comes down
I'll be walking a darker way, it's okay, it's alright

Close my heart, hold on to evil
Embracing the only, the Foul
Dream it is twilight outside
An evening to hide

Oh raven, say will it be mine
The golden, the line of my time
Fading and I am not scared
Five ravens to bear

And then my sun comes down
And you won't hold my hand, it's okay
Cause when my sun comes down
I'll be walking a darker way, it's okay
Cause when my sun comes down
I'll be walking a darker way, it's okay, it's alright
