

The color of the green lights
You used to be like children
Taking a lot of turns girl

Still I wish I wasn't late
And it's always something
And it's time we did something right
And it's always something

I can take your loving
I can take your love
I can take your loving
I can take your love

Patterned on the principle, you meet the people along the plain
You were strong once and now you tend to fall down
Things they are no longer unofficial as they are not the same
Wouldn't you rather not hate those things we do?

And our windows are oceans and our houses were planets
And our doors are open and our language is spent
Taken, taken, taken, taken, taken, taken, taken
You hold the option open and you're giving it it's love tonight

I can take your loving
I can take your love
I can take your loving
I can take your love
