

The Lasting Last of You

Lambchop

I remember the passin' trains
Leaves fall in the yard, just like Hannukah
You stayed up on the wall
Briefly all things considered, so it goes

But the line was open
The sound of water in the pipes
Do what we wanted, this is your life
And you gave it all away

That spellin' grandma was a bitch
Callin' out your name
Flushing and uncapping
Steppin' down and outward

It's been a fuckin' lovely day
I'm familiar with the way things, it could slow, every day
Get familiar with this article, here we are Headlights from a morning star
Just common proof of how high the roof is

Everything is marginal
I used to be afraid of planes
There once was a winner
I thought I was a winner

It's not like some mystery
Somethin' happens to our brains
Sometimes these things just come to me
Was the way it was explained

The lasting, how high the roof is
And it was explained, won't slow you down
The lasting last of you, it works too
Familiar
