

I Need A Beer

LANCO

Let's go

I want a good life, yeah, a long one
I want a king ranch, jacked-up some
I want a good job with a decent boss
And a good dog that won't run off
I want a ring from a team, yeah, keep it in the SEC
Next year

I want a bass boat, yeah, a fast one
Hit the jackpot, maybe cash one
I want a sunset on a Florida beach
With a margarita and a Georgia peach
But what you want ain't what you get
So let me tell you what I really need

I need a beer and the cheers
And a place where I can drink it
I need a country song, kind of sing along
And a stage where I can sing it
So raise it up and throw it down
If you're thinkin' what I'm thinkin'
I need a beer and a place to drink it

I want a penthouse (Wait, never mind)
Give me eighty acres off the county line
I wanna throw a stone at your house of glass
And tell all the critics, "Get off my back"
But what you want ain't what you get
So let me tell you what I really need

I need a beer and the cheers
And a place where I can drink it
I need a country song, kind of sing along
And a stage where I can sing it
So raise it up and throw it down
If you're thinkin' what I'm thinkin'
I need a beer and a place to drink it

What you want ain't what you get
So let me tell you what I need
What you want ain't what you get
So let me tell you what I need

I need a beer and the cheers
And a place where I can drink it
I need a country song, kind of sing along
And a stage where I can sing it
So raise it up and throw it down
If you're thinkin' what I'm thinkin'
I need a beer and a place to drink it
