

How long it will take to forget
Do you wanna be a part of me
I'm the one that you can't escape
I'm with you always

Oh I am molded by you and all the things that you do
Sometimes you tear me apart, sometimes you want me to lose
You know that it's true, you never told me the truth
Your words sound confused

You want to pull me under you're leading out the way
The world is getting colder, today (I know you want me to stay)
The light is shining brighter on all the things that you don't want to say
I feel you getting closer, I'm with you always

I know that you want me to change
I won't try to be somebody else
Every morning is like a mistake
But I am with you always

Oh I am molded by you and all the things that you do
Sometimes you tear me apart, sometimes you want me to lose
You know that it's true you never told me the truth
Your words sound confused

I know you're playing a game

You want to pull me under you're leading out the way
The world is getting colder, today
The light is shining brighter on all the things that you don't want to say
I feel you getting closer, I'm with you always

You wake me up from the silence
You wake me up for a fight
I want to know what you once said
Use as many words as you like

You wake me up from the silence
You wake me up for a fight
I want to know what you once said
It's time for both of us to fight

You wake me up from the silence
You wake me up for a fight
You're crawling under the surface tonight

I'm not prepared for a fight

I'm not with you anymore