

Meaningless

LANDMVRKS

This is the way we lived
These words are meaningless
And everything there reminds me of these days

After all that we've built, it's unfair
Everything that we loved is away

And after all we've done
Why do I feel like you can't bring it back home
And after all we've done

I need to know
On my own, I can't feel anything else anymore
On my own, oh this fucking pain goes on

Where are we today
Are we blind or honest, liars or affraid
After all that we've built, it's unfair
Everything that we loved is away

And after all we've done
Why do I feel like you can't bring it back home
And after all we've done

I can see the breath of my mistakes
Can you feel the pulses on my chest

Where are we today
Are we blind or honest, liars or affraid
Are we Walking on the same way
On my own I still can feel this pain

These words are meaningless

And after all we've done
Like you can't bring it back home
