LANDMVRKS

You take it all away, on and on and know I lose my head
Things are falling apart, you'll never see me there and you was
...

All alone I can't face you
Give me the strength to be there
All alone I can't leave you
This isn't me this means everything

And you will never be the end of us all
I can feel the world it's spinning around
Everything is getting out of control
Oh, I can feel the world, it's spinning around

I've never been there when you was alone
I've never been there when you was

And you will never be the end of us all
I can feel the world, it's spinning around
Everything is getting out of control
Oh, I can feel the world, it's spinning around

Heartbeat on my chest are woke up I don't back away
I guess you leave me no choice
And I'll be what I am supposed to be Yeah, I shake the trees and I must conclude
And I know I just don't back away
I haven't realized, we better fucking live
