

Deep End

Landon Pigg

I'm warm by the fire and I'm drinking up my dinner
And it's all I can do to be happy
So I'll laugh for today and I'll write you for tomorrow
And I'll try my luck in the deep end

Well, I got my surprise and I'll order you some fried
For the snowglobe, it's as still as can be
Drink your apple cider, share some with the spiders
From the earth and on high

This moment is for all behind the walls
Something innocent is growing and a warm wind is blowing
I'm warmed by the fire and I'm drinking up your dinner
And it's all we can do to be friendly

So we'll laugh for today and write home for tomorrow
And we'll try our luck in the deep end
In the deep end
