In another way I feel
So much more than what seems real
All we are just two lost souls
But we don't know where the light goes

Stop

All I want is just to feel you
Everything just looks so see through Nothing works quite like it's supposed to Never thought that I would be you

All I want is just to feel you Everything just looks so...

Stop

All I want is just to feel you Everything just looks so see through

All I want is just to feel you Everything just looks so see through
