

Enter Dystopia

Lanfear

A bright scanning light of an eavesdropping camera eye
Human legible flesh,
Pre-emptive justice takes us to a darker age

Verification of biometric information,
Recording the slices of life, observing the traces of minds protection is a word used for fear

Enter the age of treason
Drowned by the flood of their lies
A two coloured bunch of reasons
Protective pureness, the judge to justify

Justify the absurdness of life through a lens
Caught by the camera's eye
Where do we go from here?
The cleric knows your name
Prepared to kiss the mouth of madness again

Hollow bodies and sunken smiles
Preventive surveillance, invisible eyes
Recording the slices of life, observing the traces of minds
protection is a word used for fear

Enter the age of treason
Drowned by the flood of their lies
A two coloured bunch of reasons
Protective pureness, the judge to justify

Like a hollow portrait in their frame
Just like a pulsing spot on their radar display

Hollow bodies and sunken smiles
Preventive surveillance, invisible eyes
Recording the slices of life, observing the traces of minds
protection is a word used for fear

Enter the age of treason
Drowned by the flood of their lies
A two coloured bunch of reasons
Protective pureness, the judge to justify
