

My Will Be Done

Lanfear

Since the beginning there has always been a need
To control all you primitive fools
The wise men roll the dice - the dumb heads pay the price
Destined to struggle and serve

I can remember the days
When I felt my gift and my powers to rise
NoW I am the shepherd - you are my lambs
I am "the powers that be"

Kneel down, unleash my power
A new light through darkest night
Water the withered flower
Left there to bleed and wonder

Welcome to my side of the tree
Cash in on the knowledge I gained from the screen
Send me an ordinary man
I'll make him feel godlike - as I am

Faith is the lie you're all living for
I cannot leave my ways behind
You stay within your imaginary world
You're safe but I won't keep you warm

I rip you off - lead you astray
Erase all your memories and thoughts
Then I'll destroy what I once created
And no one recalls your name
Kneel down, unleash my power
A new light through darkest night
Water the withered flower
Left there to bleed and wonder

Welcome to my side of the tree
Cash in on the knowledge I gained from the screen
Send me an ordinary man
I'll make him feel godlike - as I am

Step into my world
Leave your doubts behind

Ignorance within, a requiem for you elegies are to be sung
Nailed on a cross, sacred in despair
I'm your reason to exist

Kneel down, unleash my power
A new light through darkest night
Water the withered flower
Left there to bleed and wonder

Welcome to my side of the tree
Cash in on the knowledge I gained from the screen
Send me an ordinary man
I'll make him feel godlike - as I am
