

I Love to Dance

Langhorne Slim

Well I'd like, tonight
To thank all the ladies
All of the ladies in this life
That have given me a chance

Well if they'd ask me
If there is one that I love more than another
I'd say that they were all great dancers
And Lord knows, I love to dance

Well, I'm grieving tonight
Without you love, by my side
Well, it seems like in this life
That I was born to let it shine

There ain't no diamonds and gold
That I'd buy to hold you here with me
And on the coldest of nights
I stumble home all alone

Well, I have done wrong, now I've told some lies
Well, I have done right with a gal by my side
I've been a dancer all of my life
I'm gonna dance on home

Well, I'd like tonight
To thank all the ladies
All of the ladies in this life
That have given me a chance
Thank you

And if they'd ask me
Said is there one that you love more than another
I'd say that they were all great dancers
And Lord knows, I love to dance

Well, they're dreaming tonight
With only God here by my side
Well it seems like in this life
That I was born to let it shine
All over this whole wide world

One, two, three, four

Dance! dance! dance! dance!...
