

No Crown

Lansdowne

You got no crown
You got no crown

Take another step back 'cause the last one didn't cut it
Thinking you're above me, so why can't you rise above it?
Acting like you're owed something just 'cause you came from nothing
We're all sick of martyrs here so take your shit and shove it

You're made from the same dirt that I am
We're made with a will for surviving

You're building a lie
Then burning it down
Turning your fears into the sound
Of hope caught on fire
Screaming so loud
It's time to get off your cross and rise on up
Everyone's had enough
You got no crown
You got no crown

Crying to the rest of us about the work you put in Flooded with your hollow words just curled up like a victim
Choking on the alibis for why you haven't made it
Point the finger at yourself, it's you ya should be blaming

You're made from the same dirt that I am
We're made with a will for surviving

You're building a lie
Then burning it down
Turning your fears into the sound
Of hope caught on fire
Screaming so loud
It's time to get off your cross and rise on up
Everyone's had enough
You got no crown

Burn every bridge
(Wreckage set ablaze, as you walk away)
Burn every bridge
(Wreckage set ablaze, walk away, walk away)

You're building a lie
Then burning it down
Turning your fears into the sound
Of hope caught on fire
Screaming so loud
It's time to get off your cross and rise on up
Everyone's had enough
(Everyone's had enough)

You're building a lie
Then burning it down
Of hope caught on fire
Screaming so loud

It's time to get off your cross and rise on up
Everyone's had enough
You got no crown
You got no crown
