

Numb

Lansdowne

I am the darkest sky
I am an angel's wings
Falling to the ground
I am the well run dry
Abandoned now for years
Lost and never found

I tried to love again
But I found that in the end
I don't feel anything

Because the pain has left me broken
And everything is overwhelming
So who am I, who am I
If I can't even face myself?
And it's like hell froze over
And the world keeps getting colder
I don't feel anything
'Cause the pain has left me numb

I am a breath away
From losing all that's left
Withered and decayed
No I cannot be saved
Now I am become Death
Destroyer of worlds

I tried to love again
But I found that in the end
I don't feel anything
No!

Because the pain has left me broken
And everything is overwhelming
So who am I, who am I
If I can't even face myself?
And it's like hell froze over
And the world keeps getting colder
I don't feel anything
'Cause the pain has left me numb

Because the pain has left me broken
And everything is overwhelming
So who am I, who am I
If I can't even face myself?
(Numb!)

Because the pain has left me broken
And everything is overwhelming
(I'm so numb)
So who am I, who am I
If I can't even face myself?
And it's like hell froze over
And the world keeps getting colder
I don't feel anything
'Cause the pain has left me numb
I don't feel anything

'Cause the pain has left me numb!
I'm so numb
I'm so numb
