LANY

I've been barely breathing
I've been barely holding on
Almost non-existent
Banging my fist on castle walls

I'm no mathematician
So I got problems I can't solve
How do you find forgiveness
When you were the only one at fault?

Out of nowhere you came to my rescue
I was changed in the blink of an eye
Everything makes perfect sense with you
I promise tonight

With my arms wide open
And a deep devotion
You can have the best of me
My sweet, sweet destiny

My soul's on fire
Nothing gets me higher
You will be the rest of me
My sweet, sweet destiny

I've got pieces missing
I don't get what I deserve
Just 'cause my heart's been broken
That doesn't mean that it don't work

Out of nowhere you came to my rescue
I was changed in the blink of an eye
Everything makes perfect sense with you
I promise tonight

With my arms wide open
And a deep devotion
You can have the best of me
My sweet, sweet destiny

My soul's on fire
Nothing gets me higher
You will be the rest of me
My sweet, sweet destiny

Like a symphony, perfect symmetry
Psychedelic, technicolor kind of chemistry
This is heavenly, I could never leave
This has gotta be the greatest fucking place to be

Like a symphony, perfect symmetry

This is heavenly, I could never leave
This has gotta be the greatest fucking place to be

With my arms wide open
And a deep devotion
