

I Pray

LANY

Our knees were touching in the back of the car when they didn't need to
But you didn't move yours and I didn't move mine
Our eyes kept locking in the back of the bar when they didn't mean to
But you didn't move yours and I didn't move mine

I know you're going home with someone else
I wish that it was me but it's not
Can't talk to you so I talk about you when I talk to God

I pray everyday
That they break your heart in the nicest way
Or they make a mistake
Yeah, the kind that even time can't change
And you take a few nights
Let your tears dry
'Cause it wasn't meant to be
I pray everyday
That you fall in love, fall in love with me

I shoulda kissed you
You were next to me on New Year's Eve
But I was scared to mess it up
And every night, it takes me way too long to fall sleep
I'm wide awake and it's because

I know you're going home with someone else
I wish that it was me but it's not
Can't talk to you so I talk about you when I talk to God

I pray everyday
That they break your heart in the nicest way
Or they make a mistake
Yeah, the kind that even time can't change
And you take a few nights
Let your tears dry
'Cause it wasn't meant to be
I pray everyday
That you fall in love, fall in love

Yeah, they lose your trust
So you pack your stuff
Yeah, you've had your fun
But you know it's done
So you call me up, you don't walk, you run
'Cause I'm everything you want

I pray everyday
That they break your heart in the nicest way
Or they make a mistake
Yeah, the kind that even time can't change
And you take a few nights
Let your tears dry
It wasn't meant to be
I pray everyday
That you fall in love with me
