

Barrel Of The Past

Lapko

Sorry my dear friend
Sorry my dear past
For everything I did because I tried to lie

Uncertainty made me some kind of a fearless caricature picture with the same old face
You glare at me through my eyes

Every anger has a former one Every legend beats one older Everything has been before you Everything and all except that one wall Use your wall it pushes you on

I need to say I love you
I need to scare you too
I need to figure out where is my heart of gold Somewhere is a place where you can hide your failures
It's a place
Where you've learnt how to swim
Please look into my eyes

I have my place in this world
Do I learn it this time
I'm face to face with fulfilled dreams and trigger in front of my eyes Bullet in a barrel with my name on I haven't found the whole revelation but I've seen flashes
