

Exodus

La'Porsha Renae

I see you wondering aimlessly
Heading nowhere
You've got your plans mapped out and your goals outlined
Still no clue of how you're getting there

All you could see are flood waters
And that mountain
You're gonna have to climb
You look to your left, you look to your right
You see that hour glass sitting there
Running out of time

I've been there
Worried and too scared
To even send up one prayer
And baby, I've been tired
And bound by the enemies lies
Saying there's no way out of here

I couldn't see the forest for the trees or the oceans deep for the sharks
Swimming around me
But that's when Yah
Met me in the wilderness of my heart
And breathed these words on me

He told me
Call, call your exodus by name
All you gotta do is
Call your exodus by it's name

You've never too low for me to reach
You're never too lost for me to find
You're never too fast for me to catch
You're never too broken for me to bind
You're never too stained for me to save
You're never too dead for me to raise
So call out
Call out
Call out my name

I did not give you the spirit of fear but the power of life and death is not in the rut or rock is on the tip of your tongue
Lemme you hear call out
Baby, call out
Call out
Call out my name
Call your exodus by name
