

HURRICANE

Låpsley

I don't push the boat out I make storms
Thought she'd run back to you that was such selfish thought
I've got my doubts about myself
You put the work in I don't doubt

I don't hold my tongue the cloud's too heavy
When love's tall waterfalls I trust you'll guide us to that levy
I've got my head strong riptide wind power
You've got that point break tidal golden hour

All I want is butterflies to fly through my chest
Untangle the highest knots
That carry all that debris and the rest

I'm a hurricane, I'm a woman in love
I'm a hurricane, I'm a woman in love

I switch like the birds migrate to warmer
Doll eyes of the storm, I'm always holding on to former
In my gravity you're lost and found
Just know I'd love you till my lights go out

All I want is butterflies to fly through my chest
Stand by me, the renegade
And I'll move every ocean and the rest

I'm a hurricane, I'm a woman in love
I'm a hurricane, I'm a woman in love
I'm a hurricane, I'm a woman in love
I'm a hurricane, I'm a woman in love

Watch out
Her love will tear you apart
You'll head home but you follow the northern star
Take care, too much wind for your kite
She's on fire, lighting bolt in the night

Watch out
Seal your fate with a kiss
Should head home but love is found in the mist
Take care, the worst part's facing yourself
Is she worth it
Work that out for yourself

I'm a hurricane
I'm a walk of shame
I'm not yours to blame
I'm a woman in love

I'm a hurricane, I'm a woman in love
I'm a hurricane, I'm a woman in love
