

Missing Home

Larkin Poe

She never came home
She knew that no one would help her now
But where did she go?
No one ever found out

She's lying above the ground
But she is lying still
'Cause nobody found her yet
Someday will come soon

But she's missing home right now
Yes, she's missing home right now
She can never imagine how
But she's missing home right now

She wrote me a note
Saying something about herself
But where did she go?
No one cared to find out

Oh, but she's missing home right now
Yes, she's missing home right now
She can never imagine how
But she's missing home right now

She's missing home right now
She's missing home
She's missing home
