

Edwoud

Larrikin Love

I've penned your poison 1000 times,
You think you're mighty, I believe you're a swine,
You're a disgusting child and everyone thinks so,
Confused about what I want to be,
Am I you, or are you me?
A whisper shouts down most of my ego.
And so

Tell me, when the night moves slow,
Do you're green shades grow?
Is it jealousy or you ego?
Are you really, really that witty,
When you're sitting at home being pretty,
Clipping your nails with your old man?

See you, you're not Edward,
Well I'll always be Edward,
But darling you're just a meer mistake,
Stay free, you're not Edward,
Well I've always been Edward,
And Eddy's just a chance to be fake.

So you sit down, and you order a pint,
Do you want a friend or do you want a fight?
I can see the tears behind you're fist though,
You may think this is just a joke,
A little joke to premote my own,
But darling this is the most truth your ears know.
And so,

Tell me, when the night moves slow,
Do you're green shades grow?
Is it jealousy or you ego?
Are you really, really that witty,
When you're sitting at home being pretty,
Clipping your nails with your old man?

See you, you're not Edward,
Well I'll always be Edward,
But darling you're just a meer mistake,
Stay free, you're not Edward,
Well I've always been Edward,
And Eddy's just a chance to be fake.
So..

Tell me, when the night moves slow,
Do you're green shades grow?
Is it jealousy or you ego?
Are you really, really that witty,
When you're sitting at home being pretty,
Clipping your nails with your old man?

See you, you're not Edward,
Well I'll always be Edward,
But darling you're just a meer mistake,
Stay free, you're not Edward,
Well I've always been Edward,

And Eddy's just this chance to be fake.