Larrikin Love

I could breathe so deep
The joyous backdrop of my eyes ached
I smelled until it hurt
The centre of the field was at peace.

For today I am a wild creature And tomorrow I will be lost again Yes today I am a wild creature And tomorrow I will be lost again

I threw my shoes to the right I flung my socks to the left

My shirt came off... I fed it to a cow

I carried on forever
My feet were idle lovers together.
I carried on forever
My feet were idle lovers together

I carried on forever
My feet were idle lovers together
I carried on forever
My feet were idle lovers together
