

Whole Lotta Little Things

Larry Fleet

It started with a little look in 2006
Led to a little ride in my truck on a night
That ended with a kiss
Led to a little bitty diamond on a little bitty ring
Little lump in my throat, down on one knee
String of beer cans down the road
Honey, next thing you know

Now it's cheese dip on a Saturday night
A couple high chairs in the kitchen
A T-shirt that ain't gonna stay white
'Cause Daddy works hard for a living
Take it all one day at a time
Loving what the good Lord's giving
Baby, you and me, building this big ole dream
Takes a whole lotta little things

Got a little bitty house
On a little piece of land
And just last week, in the new concrete
We pressed four little bitty hands
One thing led to another
Now we got another on the way
Took a whole lot of little bitty baby steps to get us where we are today

Now it's cheese dip on a Saturday night
A couple high chairs in the kitchen
A T-shirt that ain't gonna stay white
'Cause Daddy works hard for a living
Take it all one day at a time
Loving what the good Lord's giving
Baby, you and me, building this big ole dream
Takes a whole lotta little things

Whole lotta little things
Whole lotta little things
You and me, gonna catch our dreams with a whole lotta little things
Whole lotta little things
Whole lotta little things
You and me, gonna catch our dreams with a whole lotta little things

Now it's cheese dip on a Saturday night
A couple high chairs in the kitchen
A T-shirt that ain't gonna stay white
'Cause Daddy works so damn hard for a living
Take it all one day at a time
Loving what the good Lord's giving
Baby, you and me, building this big ole dream
Takes a whole lotta little things

Whole lotta little things
Whole lotta little things
You and me, gonna catch our dreams with a whole lotta little things
Whole lotta little things
Whole lotta little things
You and me, gonna catch our dreams with a whole lotta little things
