

Gotta Step It Up

Larry June

Aye Todd, turn me up
Check, yeah
Man, yeah

Bring me some Thai food before you come to the house
I like rainy days, I should move to Seattle
I like buying things that can hold its value
Fell in love with the process of making these thousands
Rolex stainless steel, food Italian
Cleaning up my kitchen playing Anthony Hamilton
Touchscreen MacBook Pro, I'm shittin'
Drop another music video, then back on a mission
I'm living next door to CEO's, wassup Ghazi?
Black tea in the morning right before I go jogging
Ice water in my Hydro Flask, it cost 40
Fell asleep last night, woke up, quick 40
Respect big dogs in the game like E40
And Black C from RBL, that's big homie
If you don't know much 'bout me, do your homework
I come from a family of G's that put in hella work
Where was niggas at when me and Sha hit the interstate?
Where was niggas at when them people hit my spot in Vegas?
Barely even rhyme on these songs, still gettin' paid
House out the way in a tucked spot in Mission Bay

Gotta move smart 'cause this shit can get real
Gotta step it up, I need houses in the hills
The more that you make the more your goals get bigger
Damn it feel good to be a Frisco nigga

I will never ever change, and I mean it, I mean it
I will always feel the same, I need it, I need it

I'm done bullshittin', back workin' on the 'Vette
I'm thinkin' 'bout BBS, and something wet
I don't really care about fame, I like checks
I ain't satisfied with this, I'm thinking next
Wake up, make my son a sandwich and dip
When I went legit is when I pulled out the whips
I was tryna dodge the police, not a nigga
Waking up with cold sweats all for the chicken
When you know the truth nigga, you just move different
Stop posting everything, keep 'em out your business
One wrong move and your life can be ended
So it's reggie on this hammer and I always keep it with me
It's all about decisions
You knew he was a snake but you still fuck with him
So who fault is it?
Protect your investment, look at the bigger picture
You gotta stay busy 'cause this life can get tricky

Gotta move smart 'cause this shit can get real
Gotta step it up, I need houses in the hills
The more that you make the more your goals get bigger
Damn it feel good to be a Frisco nigga

I will never ever change, and I mean it, I mean it

I will always feel the same, I need it, I need it

Never change (I will never change), never change (I won't feel the same)

Never change (I will never change), never change (I won't feel the same)

Oh-oh

Yeah, yeah

Yeah

Aye aye aye, aye aye aye

Goddamn
