

And We Sing the Tune

Larry Norman

I was alone, and without love
Hope was fading fast, slipping right on past
Then by some grand design
She came along, and heard my song
And sung the harmony, she was right on key
And she was right on time

And now, I'm hers, she is mine
We sing together now
She knows the words somehow
And I love her true
And we sing the tune

Love is a song from heaven
She is the love that I've been given

I was alone, I wasn't sure
She reached out to me, and she helped me see
I still had a chance, I still had a chance
To open up, to come alive
And to love again
It was only then, that I joined in the dance
Oh-oh

And now, I'm hers, she is mine
We sing together now
She knows the words somehow
And I love her true
And we sing the tune
