LaRue

Fell into a dream again, wish the dream would never ever end

Met an angel with eyes the deepest blue I've ever seen Just wish it wasn't a dream

She took me away and we flew across the skies
This angel looked familiar, and then I opened up my eyes to see
It was just a dream

A few days later I saw you, remembered my dream, can this be true?
You're the angel with eyes the deepest blue I've ever seen
This time it wasn't a dream

A few days later I looked into, the lovely eyes of you I told you about my dream, and then your eyes began to gleam

We took hand in hand, and we walked across time
And every day I thank God for making you mine
We took hand in hand, and we walked across time
And every day I thank God for making you mine

Thank you for being you
