

Seem To Be

LaRue

I see you for yourself
Intentions on a scale
I weight them
You are not who yo useem to be
I weigh them
You are not who you seem to be
It's getting harder so it seems to be the ones we onced
dreaded
It's getting easier to fall apart
To loose our hopes before they start
And what you did it left a mark
Of things unspken
Things undone

We've come a long way since you've gone
We kept our faith we still stayed strong
And through it all it has made us start to trust in God and guard our heart
And what you did
It left a mark
Of things unspoken
Things undone

And to forgive you
Learn to love you
To accept you
To try and trust you
