Last Dinosaurs

You've given me all that you are
But time and again I forgot

I know I'm not a stable man
I only do the best I can
We no longer have to disagree
I leave you with my memories

I don't even care, that's true
I no longer belong to you
I've given you the time
Now I'm leaving you behind

In the final descent we lost touch
Now I feel like I've said way too much

I know I'm not a stable man
I only do the best I can
We no longer have to disagree
I leave you with my memories

I don't even care, that's true
I no longer belong to you
I've given you the time
Now I'm leaving you behind

Oh I know you've got-a patience
You got everything you needed from me
I could dive in and swim too
But you'll only try and drag me down there with you

I don't even care, that's true
I no longer belong to you
I've given you the time
Now I'm leaving you behind
