

Forget About

Last Dinosaurs

There's a certain kind of way I know that you and I could be
But I should probably tell you in advance that I'm sorry
I'm afraid that things are changing
I don't know if I can face it

I'm thinking about a time when we were only 17
We wouldn't ever lie about the things we were feeling
Is it me that's getting colder?
Maybe I don't wanna know that

All this time
My head and heart were out of sync
But I know that
The ship is slowly sailing
Out of sight
I try to swim my way against the changing tide
The coast is only fading

Whatever comes to mind is just my callow memory
If I was any more than just a wandering folly
I could see that I'm a simple man
Too much thinking for my heart

Oh no, don't go

I'll give you everything you wanted and even more
I can't know for how long
"But if he don't show you love then just forget about him"

All this time
My head and heart were out of sync
But I know that
The ship is slowly sailing
Out of sight
I try to swim my way against the changing tide
The coast is only fading

It's only right to let go
Dead in history
But it won't suffice
Just to know it wasn't meant to be

All this time
My head and heart were out of sync
But I know that
The ship is slowly sailing
Out of sight
I try to swim my way against the changing tide
The coast is only fading
Changing tide
The coast is only fading
Changing tide
The coast is only fading
