

day 2

late night drive home

Darlin when did I raise from the dead
Upon complete ascend, your face next to my head Pulled me out my coffin while I was sleepin
Haven't seen enough, been stuck in the mud all day

Tonight
Tonight
Well remember for all our lives
It's alright
Darlin it's fine
We'll keep skating on thin ice
We can frolic around all night
Pick a spot to lie
You say what's the use of loosening you if we don't try

It's a silly game we play in these modern ages
Looking for love in the lust of metallic rust
You pulled me out my coffin while I was sleepin
I haven't seen enough, been stuck in the mud all day

Tonight
Tonight
We'll remember for all our lives
It's alright
Darlin it's fine
We'll keep treading on thin ice
We can frolic around all night
Pick a spot to lie
You say what's the use of loosening you if we don't try

I've always wanted you to tell them about me
I've always wanted you to tell them about me
Looking towards you for something sweet
Looking towards you for something sweet
I've always wanted you to tell them about me
I've always wanted you to tell them about me
Living for you is something sweet
Living for you is something sweet
