late night drive home

August third was the last time I saw you
Inside the tall green doors of my bedroom
Last seen online with that small green light
On the side of your profile
A couple of months ago

No, I don't think that I could really tell
It was just a bad portrayal of what it looks like

Helped just a little bit, help
Help just a little bit, help
Help just a little bit, help
Oh, it helped just a little bit

August third was the last time I saw you
Inside the tall green doors of my bedroom

Oh, tell me something my friend
I'm wondering if any words I said

Did I help just a little bit? Help
Help just a little bit, help
Help just a little bit, help
Oh, it helped just a little bit

Tell me something, tell me something
You'd tell me things
You'd tell me things

Think I can really tell
It was just a fairy tale
And you lied when you said you were fine wondering
In my bed if any words I said
Helped just a little bit

Helped just a little bit, help
Helped just a little bit, help
Help just a little bit, help
Oh, it, helped just a little bit
