

she came for a sweet time

late night drive home

They're just fiends for beautiful love
What uneasiness lies with being loved sometimes
When you try try try to be alone sometimes
Don't let yourself go
Don't let yourself go
Don't let yourself go
Don't let yourself go

And the wound of a guilty consciousness becomes dearest to me
Don't let yourself go
Don't let your
Don't let yourself go

I'm amongst the circus, a jester I am intoxicated
When all is said and done it's just us three
At the center of the universe, you were first to teach me
How to water my roots
How to post things online and talk about what a nice time that we cou ld find

Add some nicotine for a small head rush
You're on your bullshit already It's barely starting to hit me but I'm Fine fine fine to be alone sometimes
Don't let yourself go
Don't let yourself go
Don't let yourself go
Don't let yourself go

I'm amongst the circus a jester I am intoxicated
When all is said and done it's just us three
At the center of the universe, you were first to teach me
How to water my roots
How to post things online and talk about what a nice time that we cou ld find

To be cared for and loved but I was just a loner
I was just a stoner in a fish tank
In the chapel I take all my prized possessions
Yeah, I stuff myself with pleasure just to feel a bit better

I assured her she'd be fine not really knowing all that on her mind
She came to me for a sweet time
Even though the distractions just caused reflections
That our reality starts to meet in connections
Your trippin'
But you still got to work a ten hour shift after this
