LAUNDRY DAY

Um, hey, if I tell you something will, uh, will you promise to keep it a secret?

Cool, thanks

I don't have time to spare
I wake up every morning, realize that you're not there
And I can sleep, just pretend it's fine
But I think I lose my mind if I stay up all night
And when I leave, slow to see where this day might go
I take my givings, hold my breath and walk out the door
Used to dream about the things I'd own
But I don't sing no more, what am I living for?
Broke a heart in a half now
Used to laugh but I can't now, today
Found myself in the bathroom
Wondering what I'd ask you, I'd say
"Do you remember September? When we would stay up till the sun came out?"

Wish we could run away somewhere far (somewhere far)
We can sit and talk about the broken hearts (broken hearts)
So we can run from all the things we've learned
And wonder what we're doing in this great big world
Say goodbye
We'll burn out

Hold on to me if you want
Can't promise what I'll be on, but I know that
I'm a little uneasy, hope nobody sees me, take back
All the things I am, all the things I was, and what I'll become Trying not to run from this thing called love
So save me, praise me, tell me the ways we Could make things work living out in the Berks
But the sun don't shine now
Not long till they haze me, hope none of it phase me
But I'll keep moving forward, keep driving northward

Wish we could run away somewhere far (somewhere far)
We can sit and talk about the broken hearts (broken hearts)
So we can run from all the things we've learned
And wonder what we're doing in this great big world
Say goodbye
We'll burn out

I'll be living in the Berkshires
I'll be living in the Berkshires
I'll be living in the Berkshires
Just to clear my head
I'll be living in the Berkshires
I'll be living in the Berkshires
I'll be living in the Berkshires
Just to clear my head
I'll be living in the Berkshires
I'll be living in the Berkshires
I'll be living in the Berkshires
Just to clear my head
I'll be living in the Berkshires
I'll be living in the Berkshires

I'll be living in the Berkshires
Just to clear my head
