

Connect 5

LAUNDRY DAY

You had a moment where you couldn't see it comin'
Where you couldn't even run for nobody
Tryna look forward, but you know you can't ignore it
You just keep comin' back home with nothin'

It's all in your head and all of your friends
Are tellin' you, "You just gotta do it"
But it's out of your hands, tell all of your friends
You don't even know what you're doin'
I guess you lost your confidence somewhere back there
Before you got on the train, went insane
When your brain started to pick on you
And you started to pick on yourself

I wanna put my head right on your shoulders and cry for you
I will be honest and tell you the times that I've lied to you
I know that we can make this work
I pray that we can make this work

Tell all of your friends, tell all of your friends
Tell all of your friends, tell all of your friends
Tell all

You had a moment where you couldn't move a muscle
Yeah, you couldn't even run for nobody
You had a moment, you're thinkin' about your brothers
And you're wishin' you could've said sorry
You had a moment, you're callin' on your mother
And she told you, "You need to not worry"

Get it out of your hands, tell all of your friends
You just gotta say what you're feelin'
'Cause it's all in your head and all of your friends
Would swear you okay, but you isn't
You don't even know what you're doin'

I wanna put my head right on your shoulders and cry for you
I will be honest and tell you the times that I've lied to you
I know that we can make this work
I pray that we can make this work
I know that we can make this work
I pray that we can make this work

Tell all of your friends, tell all of your friends
Tell all of your friends, tell all of your friends
Tell all of your friends, tell all of your friends
Tell all of your friends, tell all of, all of, all of, all of

I guess you lost your confidence somewhere back there
Before you got on the train, went insane
When your brain started to pick on you
And you started to pick on yourself

I wanna put my head right on your shoulders and cry for you
I will be honest and tell you the times that I've lied to you
I know that we can make this work
I pray that we can make this work

I know that we can make this work
I pray that we can make this work

I know that we can make this work (work)
I pray that we can make this work (it started)
I know that we can make this work (work)
I pray that we can make this work