

Judgmental

LAUNDRY DAY

Treatin me so wrong and you know it
Some people got their flaws
You like to show it
Secret pictures on your phone
Like I won't notice
Girl, you make me wanna get up
And just throw shit
Across the room, straight at you
Who knows who will be left
On your endless devastation
Read the clues, see what's new
I've done all I could do and here's my current declaration:

You can be a bit judgmental
Don't ya think?
You can be a bit judgmental
Don't ya think?

Wastin my time, tellin me lies
See through your disguise
So look in my eyes, know that I'm tryin
So damn hard
But you're makin so damn complicated
Girl, it don't have to be so complicated
You're under some pressure
I don't need a lecture

Oh my God, I literally have so much homework tonight

About all the work that you did last night
Situation gets sticky, they know bout our history
You say that you miss me
I know that you miss me
You don't really miss me

You can be a bit judgmental
Don't ya think?
You can be a bit judgmental
Don't ya think?

But it's alright girl, it's okay
We all get lost along the way
I forgive you for what you said
Cause I've had you on my mind
Wouldn't want no one else by my side
Come right here, ride or die

You can be a bit judgmental
Don't ya think?
You can be a bit judgmental
Don't ya think?
