

Lighter / Time

LAUNDRY DAY

Sun woke me up on a Sunday
Wish I could run from a Monday
So I could run back to you
Wish I could go back for you
Distraction it acts as a medicine
But when I'm alone, you're in my head again
It's dark and I am blind
I need you by my side

The sun is down
You're in my mind
And when it's dark out
You come creeping from behind
And now

The night has fallen
Night has fallen down
It's darkness callin'
Darkness callin' out
And I can't wait for you to go

I look back on the past when the sunsets
I realize that I tend to get obsessed
I keep writing songs about you
There's still so much more to get through
And it turns out that love's full of heartbreaks
Hate that it's the pain that the gain takes
I cannot move on from you yet
I can't ever seem to forget

So every night you're in my mind
Cause when it's dark out
You come creeping from behind
And now

The night has fallen
Night has fallen down
It's darkness callin'
Darkness callin' out
The night has
And I can't wait for you to go

"Sorry I missed your call
What do you need me for?"
You're makin' me slam the door
I'm making you hate me more
They act like I changed so much
It's not like they chained me up
It's not that I've been depressed
It's just that I've been a mess

So you're disappointed in me now
How am I gonna make you change your mind?

We need some time
We need some time
We need some time

I think that I lost my control
I think that you poisoned my skull
I'm sure you've forgotten it all but
Maybe all this will bring you back home
When you're lovin' you're out of control
And without it there's nowhere to go
So you're packin' your bags for the road
Before long, lights are low, you're alone
Now you're running the long way towards home
Cause you got some time now to waste
Cause you got a lot on your plate
You're hopin' that you'll be okay
And you hope that you're done growin' up
And you wish that you never grew up
Now you're locked up in chains
Standin' in the rain
The clouds always clear up