

Younger Than I Was Before

LAUNDRY DAY

Take a train
To the place
Find out what it feels like inside
When it rains
Make a face
Nothing like the dreams in your mind

But even if
We do it now
I'll leave your house
And scream and shout
And let it
All I had to do was rewind

Now I'm younger than I was before
I'm younger than I was before
I'm younger than I was before
I'm younger than I was before

Get in line
Waste your time
What will you do when you're there?
Crack a smile
Catch an eye
Look at the waves in their hair

And even if I step in it
And question it
And level it
And if I'm scared and unprepared
And everyone's in under
All I had to do was be kind

Now I'm younger than I was before
I'm younger than I was before
I'm younger than I was before
I'm younger than I was before

Another notch in my belt
I never knew how that felt
Got I a ticket to ride
I found out how it feels inside

Now I'm younger than I was before
I'm younger than I was before
I'm younger than I was before (All I had to do was rewind)
I'm younger than I was before (All I had to do was be kind)
Now I'm younger than I was before (Now I'm younger than I was)
I'm younger than I was before
I'm younger than I was before (All I had to do was be kind)
I'm younger than I was before (All I had to do was rewind)
Now I'm younger than I was before
I'm younger than I was before
I'm younger than I was before (All I had to do was rewind)
I'm younger than I was before (All I had to do was be kind)
