

Light Hits the Room

Laura Jansen

Twisted notion, deep under ground
Desert ocean, no heart no sound
Deep in the dark pushing up
To get out
Caught on the slope slipping, oh oh

And I fell so far that I couldn't stop
Everything I held was everything I lost

Then the light hit the room
Then the light hit the room
Then the light hit the room
Then the light hit the room
And all I see is you, you, you

Distant motion, leading me out
Tangled, confusion, losing my ground
Down in the dark waiting
Move to the sound
Caught on the rope slipping, oh oh

And everything I knew and everything I was
My mind, the world, just turned to dust

Then the light hit the room
Then the light hit the room
Then the light hit the room
Then the light hit the room

Can you save me? (8x)

Then the light hit the room
Then the light hit the room
Then the light hit the room
Then the light hit the room
And all I see is you, you, you
All I see is you, you, you