

The Lighthouse

Laura Jansen

Wherever we turn
The monster's sure to follow
They scratch at the door
They'll eat us all alive
Meet me in the dark
We'll run for the horizon
Go!

Leave nothing behind
No sign that could be followed
There's nothing we need
Let's burn the whole place down
As it all goes up in flames
We'll run for the horizon

Under the lighthouse
We bury our bones
Find a home deep in the ground
We'll turn the lights out
Do whatever we want 'cause
We know we won't be found
We'll paint the future
I'll show you yours
You can show me mine
Underneath the lighthouse
At the edge of the world
We will never be lost again
No

We're banging the drums
We're shouting out our new names
The skeleton shakes
The moon down from the sky
Everything we want
Is here at the horizon

Under the lighthouse
We bury our bones
Find a home deep in the ground
We'll turn the lights out
Do whatever we want 'cause
We know we won't be found
We'll paint the future
I'll show you yours
You can show me mine
Underneath the lighthouse
At the edge of the world
We will never be lost again

Under the lighthouse
We will never be lost again
Under the lighthouse
We will never be lost again
We'll paint the future
I'll show you yours
You can show me mine
